

A close-up photograph of the rear of a fire engine. At the top, a yellow sign with the word 'FIRE' in large red letters is visible. Below it, on a silver metallic surface, is a yellow rectangular warning sign with a black border. The sign features a large black exclamation mark inside a triangle, followed by the word 'Danger' in large black letters and 'Vehicles reversing' in smaller black letters below it. To the right of the sign, a red and yellow diagonal striped safety panel is visible, featuring a small 'WARNING' label and a black handle.
